Along with our world-class customer service, our Account Managers are here to assist you with application and design review, material selection, seal and profile design, problem solving, sampling and prototyping, as well as failure analysis and recommendations. Go ahead and give them a call!

Rick Ricketts Peninsula and North Bay

Being our seasoned Account Manager, Rick decided he needed a challenge and switched his territory after 17 years! With tons of training and working on many different types of applications, he has a great understanding of how seals and rubber parts work. Rick is also our resident expert for the Biomed/Pharma market. He can be reached at r_ricketts@bayseal.com.

Tom Kellogg East Bay, Sacramento, Central Valley & Nevada

Tom probably has the largest territory of all of our account managers...but he seems to be everywhere at once with great customer service. With over 18 years of sales experience, you can understand why his customers trust him to come up with the best answer to their application. Tom has been with Bay Seal for almost 7 years and is our resident expert for the Wine/Beverage and Dairy markets. He can be reached at t_kellogg@bayseal.com.

Sara Nazemian South Bay

Sara has been with Bay Seal for 1 year, but has been in the industrial industry for eight years, specifically in the semiconductor market. She has a degree in Electrical Engineering and a Masters in Engineering Management... a highly skilled addition to our team. Sara can be reached at s_nazemian@bayseal.com.

Norm Crow Oregon & Washington

As our newest Account Manager, Norm is a perfect fit for our Oregon operation...being a native Oregonian with 33 years in the wholesale distribution industry (specifically the automotive and industrial markets), you can see why. Norm can be reached at n_crow@bayseal.com.
